The winter lantern Sparkle has gone out and is locked in a chest. The fox Ronja asks the class for help: whoever solves the six stations wins a number lock (6 digits) for the chest and a magic word (6 letters) that makes Sparkle shine again. Each station practises one area of English: grammar, spelling or reading.

Plan and timing (90 minutes)

Min.	Phase	Content
10	Start	Read the letter from Ronja aloud (page 5), explain the aim and the rules, make groups of 4, hand out the answer sheet (page 6).
60	Stations	6 stations, about 10 minutes each, any order (group 1 starts at station 1, group 2 at station 2, and so on). The group shares the tasks, compares answers and agrees on one result. Solution word, key letter and number key go on the answer sheet. The group collects hint cards by itself.
5	Finale	Number code at the chest, magic word at the lantern. If both are right, Sparkle is saved. Then the certificate.
15	Reflection	Pupils fill in “My Review” (page 18) alone (5 min), then talk in the whole class (10 min): Which station was hardest? Which strategy or hint card helped? What will I take away?

Hint cards

Each station has two graded hint cards (pages 13–14). Hint 1 names the strategy, hint 2 shows the way. The solution is never on a card. The cards lie open on the help table; the group fetches hint 1 first and hint 2 only afterwards.

Task structure

Task 1 of every station gives the solution word and the key letter. Tasks 2 and 3 consolidate learning. If time is short, task 1 and the number question are enough; only they lead to the code and the magic word.

Teacher Notes: Lesson Design and Reflection

Rosenshine's Principles of Instruction

Teacher

Principle (Rosenshine)	How it appears in the escape room
1. Daily review	The letter at the start activates what pupils already know; the reflection page reviews all six skills.
2. Present new material in small steps	One skill per station, short tasks, one clear target per sheet.
3. Ask a large number of questions	Every station is built on questions; the plenary uses prompt questions.
4. Provide models	Worked examples in the task 2 tables and on the hint cards.
5. Guide student practice	Graded hint cards and group talk guide pupils step by step.
6. Check for understanding	Answer sheet with codes: a wrong word or number shows at once where to look again.
7. Obtain a high success rate	Every station is solvable, hint cards are allowed, the locks confirm success.
8. Provide scaffolds for difficult tasks	Hint 1 names the strategy, hint 2 shows the way; the solution is never given.
9. Require and monitor independent practice	Group task first, then individual reflection on "My Review".
10. Review weekly and monthly	The can-do list shows what to practise next; revisit the stations in later lessons.

Reflection phase (15 minutes)

1. Individual work (5 min): fill in "My Review".
2. Whole class (10 min): prompt questions: Which station was hardest, and why? Which strategy helped you? Where did the group work well together? What do you still want to practise?
3. The teacher notes wishes for the next lessons.

Observation during the stations

- [ ] Which group uses hint 1, which uses hint 2?
- [ ] Where do wrong solution words appear? This shows what needs practice.
- [ ] Group talk: does every pupil speak? Are answers explained?
- [ ] With a wrong code: send the group back to check the stations, do not give the answer.

A Letter from Ronja

To read aloud
Start of the escape room

Hello, brave winter friends!

I am Ronja, the fox from the winter forest. It is an emergency: our winter lantern Sparkle has gone out. The Ice Master has locked it in this chest, and without its light the winter in the forest will grow dark and silent.

The chest has two locks: a number lock with six digits and a magic word of six letters that makes Sparkle shine again. You will find both at six stations in the winter forest. Puzzles from your English lessons are waiting there.

Every station gives you a solution word. One letter in it sits in the orange key box. At the end of each sheet there is also a number question. Write everything on your answer sheet.

If you get stuck, fetch my hint cards from the help table. Hint 1 first, hint 2 afterwards. I never give away the solution, but I will show you the way. Good luck!

P.S. The Ice Master is clever, but he cannot hide a good strategy. Stay calm, work as a team and check every answer twice.

Your Ronja

The rules of the winter forest

1. Read every task carefully, preferably twice.
2. Talk quietly in your group and explain your answers.
3. Write solution word, key letter and number key on your answer sheet.
4. Hint cards are at the help table: hint 1 first, then hint 2.
5. Every station can be solved. Never give up!

English
Word classes

Name: _____ Class: _____ Date: _____

Station 1

You trudge through the snowstorm in the winter forest. The Ice Master has blown the naming words out of Ronja's letter: the nouns reveal the first solution word. The text is set in lowercase, so capital letters cannot help you.

1 Read the text. Behind every numbered word is a letter. Find the nouns and read their letters in order.

[1] yesterday (K) [2] thick (M) [3] snow (S) fell on the [4] farm (N). the [5] frost (O) [6] crept (P) into every [7] crack (W), but the [8] children (B) [9] sledged (R) down the [10] hill (A). at [11] lunch (L), mia [12] shouted (T) [13] loudly (D): “look, the [14] sparkle (L) of the ice is [15] wonderful (E)! there is hot chocolate and cake at home.”

S Write the letters in order. This is the solution word:

2 Sort the seven words that are not nouns: write the numbers in the columns.

Verbs	Adjectives	Adverbs

3 Turn each verb into a noun for the person who does it. Add -er or -r.

Station 5: In the Cloud Workshop

English
Reading a non-fiction text

Name: _____ Class: _____ Date: _____

Station 5

Snowflakes are made in the cloud workshop. Read the non-fiction text carefully; every correct answer gives you a letter.

How is a snowflake made?

In high clouds it is often colder than minus ten degrees. Tiny water droplets and specks of dust float there. When water vapour freezes onto a speck of dust, a small ice crystal forms. It grows and always gets exactly six arms, because water molecules arrange themselves in the shape of a hexagon.

When many crystals collide as they fall and stick together, a snowflake forms. At temperatures just below zero degrees the crystals stick together especially well, so big, wet flakes fall. In hard frost the flakes are small and dry.

Freshly fallen snow is mostly made of air. That is why it is so light and keeps in the warmth like a thick blanket.

1 Tick the correct answer.

1. Where do snowflakes form?
   - ☐ In clouds (H) ☐ In the sea (D) ☐ On the ground (L)
2. What does the water vapour freeze onto?
   - ☐ Grains of salt (I) ☐ Specks of dust (E) ☐ Leaves (G)
3. How many arms does an ice crystal have?
   - ☐ four (E) ☐ eight (I) ☐ six (X)
4. Why does an ice crystal have this number of arms?
   - ☐ Dust has six corners. (S) ☐ Water molecules arrange themselves in a six-sided shape. (A)
   - ☐ The wind shapes it that way. (D)
5. How does a snowflake form from crystals?
   - ☐ They collide and stick together. (G) ☐ They melt and freeze again. (L)
   - ☐ The wind breaks them apart. (K)
6. When do big, wet flakes fall?
   - ☐ Only at night. (U) ☐ In hard frost. (B) ☐ Just below zero degrees. (O)
7. What are the flakes like in hard frost?
   - ☐ small and dry (N) ☐ big and wet (I) ☐ colourful and heavy (M)
8. What is freshly fallen snow mostly made of?
   - ☐ water (K) ☐ dust (W) ☐ air (S)

S Write the letters in order. This is the solution word:

2 Put the steps in the correct order (1 to 4).

- ☐ An ice crystal grows and gets six arms.
- ☐ Water vapour freezes onto a speck of dust.
- ☐ Many crystals collide and stick together.
- ☐ The snowflake falls to the ground.

Number key How many arms does an ice crystal have? ☐

Write the solution word and the number key on your answer sheet.

A red boot lies in the snow by the frozen pond. Read the story carefully, because every correct answer brings you a letter.

The Boot in the Snow

It was the evening before Advent began. Leo trudged through the snowy park, his hat pulled low over his forehead. The snow crunched under his shoes like sugar. Then he spotted a single red boot at the edge of the pond, half buried in the snow. It was far too small for a grown-up.

"Who does that belong to?" Leo murmured. His heart pounded as he found a tiny note inside the boot: "Please help me! I am behind the old well." Leo hesitated. It was getting dark, and the wind howled around the trees. Then he took a deep breath and ran.

Behind the well sat a little girl, rubbing her foot in its thin sock. "I slipped," she sobbed. Her name was Nora. Leo took off his scarf, wrapped it around her foot and helped her up. Together they walked slowly home. Nora's mother was already waiting at the garden gate. When she saw her daughter, tears of relief ran down her face.

1 Tick the correct answer.

1. When does the story take place?
   - ☐ in the middle of summer (E)
   - ☐ on the evening before Advent began (M)
   - ☐ on Christmas morning (R)
2. Where does Leo find the boot?
   - ☐ behind the well (M)
   - ☐ at the garden gate (W)
   - ☐ at the edge of the pond (I)
3. How does Leo feel when he finds the note?
   - ☐ angry (W)
   - ☐ bored (E)
   - ☐ excited and a little scared (T)
4. "The snow crunched like sugar." What is this?
   - ☐ a simile (T)
   - ☐ a question (N)
   - ☐ a list (D)
5. Why is Nora sitting behind the well?
   - ☐ She slipped. (E)
   - ☐ She was hiding. (F)
   - ☐ She was looking for Leo. (L)
6. How does Leo help the girl?
   - ☐ He fetches a doctor. (T)
   - ☐ He carries her on his back. (K)
   - ☐ He wraps his scarf around her foot. (N)
7. Why does Nora's mother cry at the garden gate?
   - ☐ She is relieved that her daughter is safe. (S)
   - ☐ She is sad because Nora lost the scarf. (E)
   - ☐ She is angry with Leo. (F)

Ronja's Hint Cards

to cut out
Stations 1–3

Hint 1

Station 1: Word classes

You can usually put a, an, the or my in front of a noun. Try this on every numbered word.

Hint 2

Station 1: Word classes

Names are nouns too. Some words can change class depending on the sentence, so read the whole sentence, not the word alone. Ask: is it a thing, place or person (noun), a doing word (verb), a word that describes a noun (adjective) or a word that tells you how, when or where (adverb)?

Hint 1

Station 2: Verb tenses

First find the verb in each sentence. Is it one word, has/have plus a form like walked or eaten, or will plus a base verb?

Hint 2

Station 2: Verb tenses

Simple present tells what happens now or often. Present perfect uses has or have and a past participle. The simple past often ends in -ed or changes the word (run, ran). The future needs will.

Hint 1

Station 3: Subject, verb, object, adverbial

Ask questions about the sentence. Who or what does the action? What is the doing word? What is the action done to?

Hint 2

Station 3: Subject, verb, object, adverbial

Subject: who or what is doing it? Verb: the doing or being word. Object: who or what receives the action? Adverbials tell you where, when or how. Many adverbials can move to the front of a sentence; the part that moves together is one sentence part.

Ronja's Hint Cards

to cut out
Stations 4–6

Hint 1

Station 4: Spelling strategies

Think about which strategy helps with each word: splitting it into syllables, finding a word family, using a suffix rule, or remembering tricky letters. Write the strategy down first.

Hint 2

Station 4: Spelling strategies

Syllables: clap the beats and say every part (Feb-ru-ar-y). Word family: find a related word (bomb, bombard). Suffix rules: after a short vowel and one consonant, double the consonant before -ing (hop, hopping); drop a final e before -ing (hope, hoping). Remember: silent letters need a memory trick such as Look, Say, Cover, Write, Check.

Hint 1

Station 5: Reading a non-fiction text

Read the title and the questions first, then the text. Underline the key word in each question and find it in the text.

Hint 2

Station 5: Reading a non-fiction text

The answer is in the text. Compare each answer with the text word by word. Cross out answers that do not appear in the text. For why questions, look for signal words such as because, so or that is why.

Hint 1

Station 6: Reading a story

Read the text twice. On the second reading, mark time, place and characters. Feelings are often not named but shown through actions or the body.

Hint 2

Station 6: Reading a story

Look for a place where two things are compared using like or as. For question 7: How did the mother feel BEFORE Nora came home? How does she feel now?

Magic word

B R I G H T

Number lock

7 3 5 2 6 3

How the finale works

The group opens the chest with the code 735263 and tells the teacher the magic word BRIGHT. If both are right, the lantern Sparkle lights up and the group gets the certificate. With a wrong code: the group checks its station sheets; the teacher only says whether the number or the word is wrong.

Unique answers

Every station has exactly one solution word. The key position is given for every solution word. The hint cards name strategies, but never the solution word or an answer.
